CLASS DEFINITION

17. The Plaintiffs bring this action on their own behalf and as Class Representatives on behalf of the Classes of others similarly situated in accordance with Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. The Classes upon whose behalf this suit is brought are defined as follows:

A. The CLASS

- (1) "Commercial Fishermen" is defined as any person(s) or entity(ies) who catch fish, shrimp, or crabs, and/or harvest oysters for sale in their fresh state, or for canning, packing freezing or drying in the waters and sounds of the Gulf of Mexico and in the coastal zone (as defined in 43 U.S.C. §1331(e) (the "Coastal Zone").
- (2) "Commercial Fishing Companies" is defined as any company(s), corporation(s), limited liability company(ies), and any other business entity(ies) engaged in the business of catching fish, shrimp, or crabs, and/or harvesting oysters for sale in their fresh state, or for canning, packing freezing or drying in the waters of the Gulf of Mexico and in the coastal zone (as defined in 43 U.S.C. §1331(e) (the "Coastal Zone").
- (3) "Charter Boat Operators" is defined as any person(s), entity(ies), company(ies), corporation(s), and/or limited liability company(ies) engaged in the business of charter fishing, shrimping, crabbing and/or harvesting of oysters in the waters of the Gulf of Mexico and in the coastal zone (as defined in 43 U.S.C. §1331(e) (the "Coastal Zone").
- (4) "Seafood Sellers" is defined as any as any person(s), entity(ies), company(ies), corporation(s), and/or limited liability company(ies) engaged in the business of buying and/or handling seafood secured from "Commercial Fishermen" and/or "Commercial Fishing Companies" as defined herein above.

- (5) "Seafood Processors" is defined as any as any person(s), entity(ies), company(ies), corporation(s), and/or limited liability company(ies) engaged in the business of canning, processing, freezing, drying, and/or shipping seafood obtained from "Commercial Fishermen" and/or "Commercial Fishing Companies" as defined herein above.

Certification of the Class, as described above is sought in this case for the purpose of the relief sought in Paragraphs 34 through 45, below.

- (B) And/or such other Classes or Sub-Classes as the Court deems appropriate.

JURISDICTION & VENUE

18. Jurisdiction is proper in this Court with regard to this class under (1) 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2) because the matter in controversy exceeds the sum or value of $5,000,000 exclusive of interests and costs; and under 28 U.S.C. §1332(a) because complete diversity exists among the parties and the amount in controversy exceeds seventy five thousand dollars ($75,000.00), exclusive of interests and costs. Venue is proper in this Court under 28 U.S.C. §1391, the general venue statute, including subsections (a) and (c) thereof. Further, jurisdiction and venue is proper in this Court under 33 USC §2717 (b).

FACTS COMMON TO THE CLASS

19. Transocean, Ltd., Transocean Offshore and Transocean Deepwater (collectively hereafter "Transocean") are the owners and/or operators of the Deepwater Horizon semi-submersible oil drilling rig, which was performing drilling completion operations for BP, BP Products, and BP America (collectively hereafter "BP") in Mississippi Canyon Block 252 (MC252) in the Gulf of Mexico on or about April 20, 2010.

20. BP Products, and BP America (collectively hereafter "BP") are the holders of a lease granted by the Minerals Management Service which allows BP to drill for oil and perform oil-production-related operations at the site of the oil spill, and on April 20, 2010 operated the oil well that is the source of the oil spill.

21. Upon information and belief, Cameron International manufactured and/or supplied the Deepwater Horizon' blow-out preventers ("BOP's") that failed to operate upon the explosion, which should have prevented the oil spill. Upon information and belief, the "BOP's" were defective because they failed to operate as intended. To this extent, Cameron is liable to the Plaintiffs and the Classes for supplying this defective product in addition to being liable for its negligence, gross negligence, and/or willful, wanton, and reckless conduct.

22. Halliburton was engaged in cementing operations of the well and well cap and, upon information and belief, improperly and negligently performed these duties, increasing the pressures at the well and causing and/or contributing to cause the fire, explosion, and resulting oil spill.

23. On or about April 20, 2010, Transocean was operating the semi-submersible oil drilling rig Deepwater Horizon in the in Mississippi Canyon Block 252 (MC252) in the Gulf of Mexico.

24. On or about April 20, 2010, the Deepwater Horizon caught fire and exploded. As a result of the fire and explosion, the crew of the Deepwater Horizon abandoned the vessel. Of the 126 member crew, 11 of the crew are unaccounted for, and 17 members of the crew were injured.

25. On or about April 22, 2010, the Deepwater Horizon sank.

26. As a result of the fire, explosion, and sinking of the Deepwater Horizon, the oil well drilled by the Deepwater Horizon began to leak crude oil into the Gulf of Mexico at a rate of at least 5,000 barrels (210,000 gallons) per day. As of the time of the filing of the Class Action

Complaint, a massive effort has been launched by the United State Government, and the Defendants to contain the large amount of continuing crude oil discharge. As of the time of the filing of this Class Action Complaint, the oil well continues to discharge crude oil in to the Gulf of Mexico. The resulting discharge has created a 600-mile circumference rainbow sheen with areas of emulsified crude quickly approaching the shorelines of Louisiana and Mississippi. This 600-mile slick has or will cause the natural resources of the Gulf of Mexico fishery to be injured, destroyed, or lost, as well as the injury, destruction, and/or loss of personal and real property.

27. The massive oil slick created by the continuing discharge of crude oil into the Gulf of Mexico have or will cause injuries and damages to the Class to the extent that the seafood industry will be closed and the sustainable natural resource of the fishery will be greatly harmed and/or destroyed. Simply put, the oil slick and continuing discharge of crude oil is an ecological and economic disaster for the Plaintiffs.

28. The injuries and damages suffered by the Plaintiffs and the Classes were cause by Defendants', and each of them, violation of the numerous statutes and regulations, including but not limited to statutes and regulations issued by OSHA and the United States Coast Guard, including requirements to test the sub-sea BOP's at regular interval.

29. There are many other effects from the oil spill that have not yet become known, and Plaintiffs specifically reserve the right to amend this Complaint when additional information becomes available.

CLASS ALLEGATIONS

30. Plaintiffs bring this Class Action pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 23(a) on their own behalf and on behalf of the Class described below:

- (1) Plaintiffs are members of the Classed they seek to represent;
- (2) The Classes consist of at least hundreds of individuals and are therefore so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable;
- (3) The questions of law or fact are common to the Classes.
- (4) The claims of the Plaintiffs are typical of the Classes because they are all members of the Classes. Plaintiffs and all members of the Classes have or will sustain damages as a result of the negligence, gross negligence, misconduct, and strict liability of the Defendants.

(5) The Plaintiffs will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Classes.

31. Plaintiffs further bring this Class Action pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure Rule 23(b)(1) and 23(b)(3) because prosecuting separate actions by individual class members would create a risk of inconsistent or varying adjudications with respect to individual class members that would establish incompatible standards of conduct for the Defendants; adjudications with respect to individual class members that , as a practical matter, would be dispositive of the interest of the other member not parties to the individual adjudications and would substantially impair their ability to protect their interests; and the questions of law or fact common to the Members of the Classes predominate over any questions affecting only individual Members, and that a class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy.

32. Plaintiffs have retained competent and experienced counsel in matters such as these. Counsel is committed to vigorous prosecution of this action.

33. The expense and burden of litigation would substantially impair the ability of many members of the Class to pursue individual cases to protect their rights.

CAUSES OF ACTION

NEGLIGENCE, GROSS NEGLIGENCE, WILLFULLY, WANTON AND CARELESS DISREGARD FOR THE PLAINTIFFS

34. Plaintiffs reassert and re-allege the allegations of paragraphs 1 through 21 above as if set forth herein in full words and figures.

35. The Defendants, and each of them, were negligent, grossly negligent, and/or acted with willful, wanton, and careless disregard for the rights of the Plaintiffs and the Class with regard to the operation of the Deepwater Horizon on or about April 20, 2010, and continuing to present.

36. Defendants, and each of them, are liable to the Plaintiffs for:

- a. Negligently, grossly negligent, and/or willful, wanton, and careless disregard for the rights of the Plaintiffs and Classes for its failure to adequately and thoroughly operate the offshore drilling rig Deepwater Horizon allowing for the discharge of crude oil into the waters of the Gulf of Mexico;
- b. Negligently, grossly negligent, and/or willful, wanton, and careless disregard for the rights of the Plaintiffs and Classes for its failure to provide adequate safeguard(s), including but not limited to the installation of a remote control acoustic switch, to prevent the discharge of crude oil in to the waters of the Gulf of Mexico;
- c. Negligently, grossly negligent, and/or willful, wanton, and careless disregard for the rights of the Plaintiffs and Classes for its failure to comply with Federal and/or State Law;
- d. Negligence per se for acting in contravention of established Federal and/or State Law;

- e. Negligently, grossly negligent, and/or willful, wanton, and careless disregard for its failure to properly inspect the Deepwater Horizon to assure that its equipment and personnel were fit for their intended purpose;
- f. Negligently, grossly negligent, and/or willful, wanton, and careless disregard for its failure to promulgate, implement and enforce rules and regulations pertaining to the safe operations of the Deepwater Horizon which, if they had been so promulgated, implemented and enforced, would have averted the fire, explosion, sinking and oil spill;
- g. Negligently, grossly negligent, and/or willful, wanton, and careless disregard for operating the Deepwater Horizon with untrained and unlicensed personnel;
- h. Negligently, grossly negligent, and/or willful, wanton, and careless disregard for inadequate and negligent training and hiring of personnel;
- i. Negligently, grossly negligent, and/or willful, wanton, and careless disregard for implementation of policies and procedures to safely conduct offshore operations in the Gulf of Mexico;
- j. Negligently, grossly negligent, and/or willful, wanton, and careless disregard for employing untrained or poorly trained employees and failing to properly train their employees;
- k. Negligently, grossly negligent, and/or willful, wanton, and careless disregard for failing to ascertain that the Deepwater Horizon and its equipment were free from defects and/or in proper working order;
- l. Negligently, grossly negligent, and/or willful, wanton, and careless disregard for failure to timely warn;

- m. Negligently, grossly negligent, and/or willful, wanton, and careless disregard for failure to timely bring the oil release under control;
- n. Negligently, grossly negligent, and/or willful, wanton, and careless disregard for failure to provide appropriate accident prevent equipment;
- o. Negligently, grossly negligent, and/or willful, wanton, and careless disregard for failure to observe and read gauges that would have indicated excessive pressures in the well;
- p. Negligently, grossly negligent, and/or willful, wanton, and careless disregard for failure to react to danger signs;
- q. Negligently, grossly negligent, and/or willful, wanton, and careless disregard for providing BOP's that did not work properly;
- r. Negligently, grossly negligent, and/or willful, wanton, and careless disregard for conducting well and well cap cementing operations improperly;
- s. Negligently, grossly negligent, and/or willful, wanton, and careless disregard for acting in a manner that justifies imposition of punitive damages; and
- t. Such other acts of negligence and omissions as will be shown at the trial of this matter; all of which acts are in violation of the Federal law and/or State Laws applicable on the outer Continental Shelf.

37. As a direct and proximate result of the acts or omissions set forth in the preceding paragraphs, the Plaintiffs and the Class have suffered or will suffer injuries and damages caused and/or contributed to be caused as a result of the negligence, gross negligence, and careless disregard for the rights of the Plaintiffs and the Class.

STRICT LIABILITY

38. Plaintiffs reassert and re-allege the allegations of paragraphs 1 through 21 above as if set forth herein in full words and figures.

39. The Defendants, and each of them, are the responsible parties for the discharge of crude oil from the facility of the Deepwater Horizon; and for the substantial threat of a discharge of oil, into or upon the navigable waters or adjoining shorelines pursuant to the provision of the Oil Pollution Act of 1990, 33 USC § 2701 et seq.

40. As a direct and proximate result of the acts or omissions set forth in the preceding paragraphs, the Plaintiffs and Classes have suffered or will suffer damages for injury to, or economic losses resulting from destruction of, real or personal property; damages for loss of subsistence use of the natural fishery resources, which have been injured, destroyed, or lost; and damages for the loss of profits or impairment of earning capacity due to the injury, destruction, or loss of real property, personal property, or natural fishery resources.

DAMAGES

41. Plaintiffs incorporate all preceding paragraphs as set forth herein in full words and figures.

42. The acts and/or omissions of the Defendants as set forth in the preceding paragraphs constitutes negligence and/or gross negligence, negligence per se, willful, wanton, and careless disregard for the right of the Plaintiffs and Classes, and other causes of action set forth therein, rendering the Defendants, and each of them, liable to Plaintiffs and Classes for actual, compensatory and punitive damages.

43. As a direct and proximate result of the conduct, actions, inactions, and behavior of the Defendants, and each of them, as more fully set forth in the preceding paragraphs, Plaintiffs and Classes have suffered or will suffer and are entitled to receive from these Defendants significant damages, including but not limited to damages to real and/or personal property; economic losses resulting from destruction of, real or personal property; damages for the loss of profits or impairment of earning capacity due to the injury, destruction, or loss of real property, personal property, or natural fishery resources; compensatory damages; actual damages; costs and expenses; and other incidental damages, all to the general damages of Plaintiffs and Classes, said damages being in an amount to be determined at a trial of this cause. Plaintiffs and Classes also seek pre-judgment and post-judgment interest in an amount not less than 10% per year, and/or an amount provided by law.

44. Moreover, Defendants, and each of them, willfully, wantonly, and/or with careless disregarding for the Plaintiffs and the Classes treated Plaintiffs and Classes with such gross and reckless negligence, or in such a reckless disregard for its rights as is equivalent to such a wrong, thereby entitling Plaintiffs and Classes to punitive damages in a sum to be determined at a trial of this cause, but which is sufficient to punish Defendants, and each of them, and to deter these Defendants, and each of them, and others similarly situated from engaging in similar conduct in the future.

45. In addition to asserting that Defendants are liable for part or all of the claims asserted by the Plaintiffs and Classes in the underlying litigation, Plaintiffs and Classes are asserting claims for actual, compensatory and punitive damages against Defendants, and each of them.

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, Plaintiffs Individually, and on Behalf of All Other Similarly Situated asks this Court to enter a order certifying the Classes for the purpose of moving forward with any one or all of the causes of action alleged herein; enter an Order appointing Plaintiffs as Class Representatives and appointing undersigned counsel as counsel for the Classes; and enter Judgment finding that the Defendants, and each of them, liable to the Plaintiffs and Classes jointly and severally, for actual, compensatory and punitive damages, including but not limited to attorneys' fees and other incidental costs and expenses, in an amount to be determined at a trial of this cause, together with prejudgment and post judgment interest as provided by law in an amount not less than 10% per year, attorneys' fees and cost of this action, and any and all additional relief in favor of Plaintiffs and Classes deemed appropriate by this Honorable Court.

Respectfully submitted this the 30th day of April, 2010.
