Cindy and Louis, she didn't mention the nature of the interview but it could be about the email she sent me earlier. See the below email she emailed me at 12:38 a.m. today. For your information, I forwarded that email to Peggy Barton and Greg Giangrosso.

Anne Marie Vandenberg says she put in a public records request for any and all documents related to her administrative leave and received a response saying there were none. Can you confirm for me that there are no documents, why there are no documents and whether it is standard practice not to have any records when an employee is put on administrative leave?

Thanks,

Val
